

Creating an Appendix on Appeal in a Counseled Case

The First Circuit Court of Appeals now has a rule (LR 30.0) governing the form and content of the appendix to an appeal brief in "counseled cases" (i.e. cases in which the appellant is represented by counsel--including in forma pauperis cases). The cost of compiling the appendix is reimbursable in those cases in which appellant's counsel is appointed under the Criminal Justice Act.

You can access the First Circuit's local rules at this link.

You can access an information sheet regarding the impact of the new rule entitled "Notice to Counsel Regarding Contents of Appendix" at this link.

You can access an instruction sheet that explains how to use CM/ECF to create an appendix for your appeal brief at this link.