Partner

1980-1994

Law Offices of Lawrence A. Vogelmann & Barry C. Scheck

Practice consisted of approximately 70% federal work, 30% state work; 60% trials, 40% appeals; 60% criminal, 40% civil. I tried well over one hundred cases, with approximately one hundred state or federal criminal trials to verdict. I wrote or supervised hundreds of appellate briefs and have argued over fifty appeals. My experience ranged from the defense of individuals and corporations in civil and criminal RICO cases in federal court, to being co-counsel defending Hedda Nussbaum in the Joel Steinberg case, to defending a corporate employee in a class action securities fraud claim, to representing numerous plaintiffs in police misconduct litigation, to trying a dozen state murder prosecutions. I also have extensive experience supervising pro bono litigation in conjunction with my faculty position.
